

Detailed map of the environs of early Victorian London

FADEN, William.

A New Map of the Country Twenty-five Miles Round London.

London: James Wyld, 1838. Original colour. Dissectioned and laid on linen in four sections, each 540 x 650mm, folded into original publisher's slipcase. Total if joined approx 1080 x 1300mm.

£750

A large and detailed map, extending to Amersham in the west, clockwise to Hemel Hempstead, Ware, Chelmsford, Billericay, Tunbridge, Bletchingly, Reigate, Dorking, Guildford, Windsor and Beaconsfield. Originally published in 1788, this map was updated for about a century, the last issued being c.1880. This edition was the first to mark railways.

HOWGEGO: 188, state 10a.

Stock ID :19686