

A 17th century Italian map of London

CORONELLI, Vincenzo Maria.
 Londra.

Venice, 1689. Coloured. 270 x 430mm.

£1,250

An uncommon map of London, published in Coronelli's 'Citta', fortezze, isole, e porti principali dell' Europa...', decorated with the arms of England and the City of London. Despite showing the layout of the streets carefully, the map is unusually devoid of names, even lacking a key: the Thames is the only named feature.
